Digestive enzymes break down ingested food into vital proteins, fats and carbohydrates to provide optimum nutrition for the body. But with aging, illness, and obesity, the body's digestive functions deteriorate, leading to gas, bloating, partially digested food, nutritional deficiencies and inflammation. Intestinal health goes far beyond bowel irregularities, gas, and bloating. Poor GI health can undermine your quality of life, compromise your immune system, and accelerate age-related disorders.

Digest Pro is a special formulation of eight natural digestive enzymes. By effectively supplementing digestive enzymes daily, Digest Pro may promote more complete digestion of carbohydrates, proteins, and fats, as well as better absorption of nutrients, helping to ensure continued good health.

THE MISSING LINK IN WEIGHT LOSS: Enzymes govern every single metabolic function in your body. The vast majority of metabolic enzymes are known as proteases. However, due to the deficiency of enzymes in the modern diet, the body is forced to reduce production of proteases in order to produce digestive enzymes designed to break down carbohydrates, proteins, and fats. Supplementing with digestive enzymes eases the enzymatic burden on the body, allowing it to focus on protease production for optimal metabolism.
